Harry Moss will have to answer to the district court to the charge of manslaughter, that of killing William E. Stone, This was decided by Judge J. A. Howell Saturday afternoon at the J. A. Howell Saturday afternoon at the preliminary hearing which occupied all day Saturday. His bond was fixed at $1,500, which he was unable to furnish. The defendant appeared in court accompanied by his young wife and his attorney. H. H. Henderson, and the siate was represented by County Atty. Hulaniski, and Atty. W. L. Maginnis was present to represent the Stone family.

Roy Horr was the first witness, and his account was substantially as given and beautifying of this part of the sate. His demise came very unexpect-site. His demise came very unexpect-sily, and brought universal sorrow story that Moss picked up a rock and
